RE: Register for March 8 Webinar – Updated “Canada’s Guidance on Alcohol” with co-chair of the 2023 Canadian Guidance on Alcohol and Health

QUICK FACTS

- Register now for the upcoming webinar (March 8, 7-8 p.m.), Public Health Updates for Halton Physicians: Focus on Alcohol – Understanding the clinical implications of the new alcohol guidance and how reducing alcohol intake reduces the risk of disease.
- “Canada’s Guidance on Alcohol and Health” replaces “Canada’s Low-Risk Alcohol Drinking Guidelines” and provides Canadians with information they need to make well-informed and responsible decisions about their alcohol consumption and how it impacts their health.
- Join Dr. Peter R. Butt, the co-chair for the 2023 Canadian Guidance on Alcohol and Health with Canadian Centre on Substance Use and Addiction (CCSA) and Halton Region’s Medical Officer of Health, Dr. Hamidah Meghani to:
 - Discuss how alcohol use contributes to health risks for various diseases, including cancer and heart disease;
 - Understand the epidemiology of alcohol misuse in Halton and Ontario;
 - Learn about the changes to Canada’s Guidance on Alcohol and Health; and
 - Identify the clinical implications of the guidance, including easy opportunities during various patient interactions for discussing alcohol consumption and related health risks.

KEY MESSAGES FOR HEALTHCARE PROVIDERS

- “Canada’s Guidance on Alcohol and Health” replaces “Canada’s Low-Risk Alcohol Drinking Guidelines” and provides Canadians with information they need to make well-informed and responsible decisions about their alcohol consumption and how it impacts their health.
- Research shows even a small amount of alcohol can be damaging to health and that no amount or kind of alcohol is good for people’s health.
